SERVICEMEN ARRIVE HOME

Corp. Ralph McIntyre, R.C.A.F., son of Mrs. D. R. McIntyre, Nelles Road, has arrived home after many months' service overseas.

F./O. J. W. McNiven, R.C.A.F., arrived home from overseas July 2. He is a navigator for the Bluenose Squadron, and as they were detained at the Azores with a faulty engine, and later at Newfoundland with bad weather, they arrived later than was expected.

"Bill" attended Grimsby High School, and obtained his B.A. at McMaster University before enlisting. He is here on a thirty day leave, and after that his future is uncertain.

He has a sister, 1st Lieut. Catherine McNiven, with the United States Army Nurse Corps, somewhere in Europe.

Among the servicemen returning home last week was Sgt. Leslie G. V. Brignull, a former Grimsby boy, son of George and Mrs. Brignull now residing in Hamilton. Leslie enlisted in the R.C.A.S.C. in September, 1939, and spent six Christmases and six birthdays overseas. He was wounded in the Sicilian invasion and sent to Tripoli, North Africa for hospitalization. He rejoined his unit in Italy and served there until the Canadians were moved to Germany for the big spring push. He was in Germany, Holland, Belgium and France and was flown back to England to await his turn to return home. Les. was in town for the Lions Carnival and met many of his old pals. A brother, Petty Officer Douglas Brignull, who has been in the Royal Canadian Navy for over nine years is still on service in the Pacific with H.M.C.S. Uganda.

Carnival Success Despite Weather

People Played Games And Had A Good Time Between The Showers — Run Four Nights.

Despite interruptions by old Juniper Pluvius, Lions Club carnival last week was its usual big success. Wednesday night the crowd was as large as was expected for the first night. Rain on Thursday and Friday night kept many people away from the grounds and playing of the games went on between showers, there were a lot of people in attendance.

Saturday night it was cool and rain was threatening but the games all received a good play. As usual the Ferris Wheel and the merry-go-round were the mecca for young and old and everybody had a good time.

Winners in the prize drawings were as follows: Ticket 1366, Howard Inglehart; 7205, Miss K. Trant, Grimsby Beach; 14062, Mrs. Frank Farrow; 4068, D. Darby, Hamilton; 5080, Roy Smye; 5096, George Curtis; 3396, West Lincoln Memorial Hospital.

PHEASANT BREEDING PROVES A SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT

The experiment of the Niagara District Pheasant Breeders' Association to raise pheasant in captivity something that naturalists believed would fail—is proving a success. Adult birds are laying eggs by the thousand, and the little chicks are being hatched out in incubators and are growing rapidly with small percentage of mortality.

In another week or so, the Association, which now has more than 600 members throughout Lincoln and Welland Counties, will reap the first fruits of their efforts. They will liberate their first pheasants.

Purpose of the Association, formed last February, was to raise pheasants in captivity, and release them to increase the flock for hunting next fall. Some birds will be retained as breeding stock for next year's flock.

There are about 300 chicks on the farm of Arthur Thompson, Pelham Road, St. Catharines, which are about five weeks old. In two or three weeks, they will be big enough to take care of themselves, and will be distributed to members.

When The Game Of Bowls Flourished In Grimsby

For a great many years the grand old game of Bowls held sway in this locality. During the past half century Grimsby has had many different greens in many different locations. Who can tell us where this green was located? Who are the men? How long ago was this picture taken? Full story next week.

Insect Invasion Along The Lake

Brown Froghoppers Causing Alarm To Fruit Growers—Cause Remarkably Little Harm On Plants Which They Feed.

Large numbers of brown jumping insects about a quarter of an inch long, which have appeared along the lake shore in the Niagara district, are causing a great deal of alarm among farmers and fruit growers.

These are froghoppers or spittlebugs, the winged adult stage of the insects which live inside the small masses of froth, often called frog-spit or cuckoo-spit, so common in meadows or on weeds in the spring. These insects are usually abundant every year, but for some reason they have migrated in remarkable numbers to the lake shore area during the past few days, possibly in search of other food plants after the meadows were mown.

Although froghoppers are sucking insects which feed on sap, they cause remarkably little harm to the plants on which they feed. Only within a few yards of the shore, where the froghoppers were closely massed on the plants, has injury been noticed, in the form of wilting or death of shoot tips or tender leaves.

There is no method of control which is completely effective, because froghoppers are very active and soon reinfest any plants on which they have been killed. The most satisfactory control, which should be attempted only when injury is evident, is three per cent nicotine dust applied under warm calm conditions. It may be necessary to repeat this several times. Insecticides such as lead arsenate or calcium arsenate, used to destroy chewing insects, are of course useless against sucking insects such as froghoppers.

TWO PROMINENT RESIDENTS CROSS THE GREAT DIVIDE

Capt. C. H. Battersby Suffered Seizure On Saturday Afternoon And Passed Away In Hospital A Few Hours Later.

A GREAT GOLFER

Came To Canada From England About 35 Years Ago—Served In First Great War—Farmed In Clinton Township.

A resident of the Lower Thirty, Clinton township, for over 35 years, Capt. Christopher H. Battersby, died in Hamilton hospital during Saturday night.

Deceased gentleman had been in ill health for over a year and last Autumn moved from his farm to reside with Mrs. Thomas Liddle at Rossmore, Grimsby. As had been his daily custom he had come down town on Saturday morning and while dining at The Village Inn suffered a seizure. Medical aid was hastily summoned and he was removed to hospital where he passed away within a few hours.

Capt. Battersby had been prominent in the social and agricultural life of this district for many years. He was of a very congenial nature and his company was enjoyed by all with whom he came in contact.

A great golfer he was considered one of the best in the Peninsula during the years that Deer Park Golf and Country Club was in operation.

The late gentleman in company with his brother-in-law the late A. E. Wickstead, came to this district from England about the year 1910 and purchased a fine fruit farm on the lake shore in Clinton township. In 1914 when war broke out the both men immediately returned to England and joined the forces. Mr. Wickstead was killed in action, but Capt. Battersby served until 1918 in Egypt and the Far East with a cavalry brigade.

Returning to Canada he settled on his farm and had been a continuous resident since. His widow, now in England, survives him.

He was a member of Ivy Lodge A.F. & A.M., Beamsville and of St. Alban's Anglican church where services were held on Tuesday afternoon, with interment in St. Andrew's Churchyard, Grimsby.

John W. Kennedy Of Beamsville Passes After Illness Of Only Three Days — Served His Village Long and Faithfully.

IN 72nd YEAR

As Contracting Mason Constructed Many Homes And Public Buildings Throughout The District — Member Board Of Education.

One of the best known business men in the Niagara Peninsula, John Wardell Kennedy, passed away at his home, King street, Beamsville, on Sunday, after an illness of three days' duration. He was in his 72nd year.

A lifelong resident of Beamsville he had been an outstanding citizen since his young manhood. He was affable and generous in any good work that benefitted the whole community and took an active interest in many spheres and endeavored them all with a certain vigorous personality that was all his own. He had a great affection for his home village and found joy in furthering its interests at all times.

He was a man of varied and full time interests. As a youth he learned the mason trade and followed it for many years. There are dozens of private homes and public buildings between Stoney Creek and Jordan that "Jack" Kennedy helped to construct, and like in all his other activities, as a contractor, he did a thorough job.

In later years he conducted a real estate business and a collection agency as well as being auctioneer and justice of the Peace.

He was a member of Ivy Lodge, A.F. & A.M., of Freestone Lodge, I.O.O.F., and the I.O.F., a former president of the Clinton Agricultural Society and the Horticultural Society, a former chairman of the Board of Education and one of its longest serving members. He was

Stephen's Block Reported Sold

Unconfirmed Information Is That Large Property Owner In Hamilton And St. Catharines Is Purchaser.

Unconfirmed information that The Independent has received is to the effect that the large brick Stephen's block at 47-49-51 Main street west, with apartments upstairs, has been sold by the executors of the Murgatroyd estate.

It is understood that this property has been purchased by a gentleman who has business property in both Hamilton and St. Catharines. It is definitely known that the White Elephant Shop has to vacate the portion of the block that they occupy and are selling out all their merchandise at cut rates preparatory to closing out business.

This building now houses besides the White Elephant Shop, the Hydro offices and Joe's Restaurant, as well as three or four families in the apartments.

The building was built previous to the First Great War by the late Thos. J. Stephens and was occupied for many years by K. M. Stephens as a dry good store and gent's furnishings. Since Mr. Stephens went out of business it has had many occupants.

Harold B. Matchett is the purchaser of the new brick house of Howard Inglehart on Robinson St. South.

Make Alterations To Court House

Will Widen Stairway And Install Modern Wash Rooms — Build New Fence At Jail.

Architect's plans and specifications for alterations at the Lincoln County court house were approved last Friday by the General Administration Committee of the county council. The alterations include widening the stairway to the basement, enlargement and modernizing of the wash rooms, and fitting up space in the basement for a storeroom. Architect Thos. R. Willey and County Clerk W. H. Millward were instructed to call for tenders for the work.

It was also decided to paint all exterior wooden parts of the court house. A gray and red color scheme was adopted. The fence around the county building will also receive a new coat.

Construction of a light fence, 333 feet long, from Niagara to Page streets at the north side of the county jail was approved.

The committee reviewed heating costs for county buildings and found that considerable sum had been saved during the past two years by burning coal after the change-over from oil and gas. The stoker at the court house has been

Beamsville Boy Awarded O.B.E.

A Beamsville boy, Lt. David V. Roland, 25, has been awarded the decoration of Member of the Order of the British Empire for his service in the Italian campaign, according to an announcement today by the Department of National Defence.

Total Donations Received Up Until Monday Night $424—Many Amounts Sent Direct To Toronto Before Local Fund Opened.

FOR BUILDING FUND

This Week Will Finish Campaign So You Better Make Your Contribution Right Away At The Bank Or Baker's Store.

The campaign that has been conducted the past three weeks to raise the sum of $6,000,000 for the Building Fund of the Sick Children's hospital is nearing completion and it is now an assured fact that the objective will be reached by the end of the week. Of course a few extra dollars would not come amiss.

Grimsby and North Grimsby citizens have been doing their share to help this campaign along, but they still have time before the fund closes to do still more. Up until Monday night contributions received by the Canadian Bank of Commerce and J. W. Baker's store total $424.25.

While the above amount is not a really large one, still it will help a lot in the grand aggregate. It is known that a large number of donations were sent direct to Toronto before the local campaign got under way, but at the present time there is no way of telling how much those donations amount to, but in the hospital books will be credited to Grimsby.

Donations received to Monday night are as follows:

W. C. B. Manson	$ 10.00
Mrs. M. I. Griffith	10.00
Grimsby and North Grimsby
United Salvage Effort	100.00
Miss E. A. P. Smith	5.00

Here's The Reason

(Thomas, Richard, Henry, in Toronto Telegram)

A local man wonders why strawberries on the top of the box are large and luscious while those at the bottom are small, pale and wan.

The reason is, of course, partly because of the labor situation and partly the fertility of our Ontario soil.

The pickers are inexperienced and slow and the berries grow very fast.

The result is that they have to start to fill the box when the berries are small and not quite ripe, but by the time the box is finished the berries have grown large and luscious.

Every once and a while some person or persons with a real or an imaginary grievance comes to the fore and writes anonymous letters. Town council in session last night heard Mayor Bull explain that he had received an unsigned epistle. Council as a whole most firmly took the stand that they were not interested in this particular letter or in any letters that were sent to the Mayor, the Clerk or the Council unsigned.

A bylaw of much importance was passed that will license and regulate all theatres and other places of amusement in the town. A license fee of $10 a year will be assessed and no theatre or place of amusement will be allowed to operate between the hours of 11.45 on Saturday afternoons and eight o'clock on Monday mornings, except in the case of religious or memorial services. A conviction under this bylaw will forfeit the license and the licensee will also be subject to a fine up to $50 and costs, and in failure to pay same confinement in the county gaol up to a period of 21 days.

Councillor Bonham reported that the new parking bylaw was working out satisfactorily so far as it had gone. Education of the motoring public will commence on Friday.

An Unusual Case Before The Court

Prosecution Launched Against Father And Daughter Over Death Of Bobby Blaine — Girl Had No Driver's License.

An unusual prosecution under the Criminal Code was launched in Magistrate J. H. Campbell's court last week when a father and his 18-year-old daughter were jointly charged with dangerous driving under the code. After hearing the evidence produced in the preliminary hearing by Crown Attorney E. H. Lancaster, K.C., the father Philip Soroka, and his daughter, Ann, R.R. 2, Beamsville, were committed for trial in a judge's court. The Sorokas were represented by H. E. Harris.

Evidence revealed that Miss Soroka was driving her father's truck in Grimsby on June 17 and struck Robert Blaine, aged 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blaine, Main Street, Grimsby, causing injuries which resulted in the boy's death.

NOTE — The following article from the pen of Pearl McCarthy, in The Globe and Mail, will be of interest to residents of Grimsby, as Miss Yvonne Williams, to whom the story refers, is a former Grimsby girl, a daughter of Mrs. S. F. Williams and the late Mr. Williams, and a sister of Mrs. Herb Gillespie, Park Road, Grimsby Beach.—Ed.

The new window which has just been dedicated in the chancel of the Church of St. Michael and All Angels is probably one of the most distinguished works of art which has been created in Canada for several years. In any branch of the visual arts. It is the work of Yvonne Williams. The window is a memorial to the Rev. Canon Brain. Until appreciation of stained glass is general, it cannot be said too often that a stained glass window is not a mere picture designed in colored glass, albeit there are acres of such windows in existence. The real genius of the art is functioning when the artist, through the glass, is putting light to work.

FACTS & FANCIES

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

A NEW OLD-FASHIONED REVIVAL

There is a real religious revival movement on foot in Canada, writes Lewis Milligan. "On foot" is not the right word, for it is streamlined and seems to be moving rapidly under its own power. For some years the regular churches have looked askance at any attempt to revive the old-fashioned revivals; they were regarded as out-of-date and could have no appeal in this modern intellectual and mechanical age. But this is a new kind of revival, or, rather, it is the old-fashioned revival modernized.

The movement had its origin in the United States about a year ago. Rallies have been held in Chicago with 25,000 in attendance, and a recent rally brought more than 50,000 persons to the stadium at Soldier Field. Nearly 500 similar rallies are said to have been held throughout the continent with a total attendance of 500,000.

Writing of this movement in The Christian Century, Harold E. Fey says: "Youth for Christ is an idea: to convert young people to Christ." This streamlined revivalism puts into effective use the selling technique of radio. Its leaders are men under forty whose educational equipment was acquired in high schools and in fundamentalist institutes and Bible colleges of the Moody type. Their methods have been learned from business and particularly from commercial radio."

That may sound like cheapening religion, or lowering the Gospel to a commercial basis, but it is a line of least resistance and of popular appeal. Wesley, Moody and General Booth used the same tactics in their own times, and they did it very effectively. They too, were young men who went outside of their churches, which had become stodgy, staid and ecclesiastical, and they used methods that were regarded as vulgar and sensational. Wesley was charged with adapting Italian operatic tunes to his gospel hymns, and he replied that he did not see why the devil should have all the good music. Moody and Sankey's gospel songs were mostly set to "swing" music, and Booth's songs were timed to the tambourine and the military drum—marching to glory.

Out of mere curiosity I went the other Sunday evening to one of these new revival services in Toronto. Although it was a warm summer evening I found the newly-decorated auditorium, including the gallery, filled with young people, all well-dressed and many of the young women in latest fashions. There was a sprinkling of old people. In the pew in front of me there were four weather-beaten men well up in their seventies, of the farmer type, who seemed to have come there to renew their youth. The preacher was a young man in his 'thirties, tall, handsome, smiling, and with a flashing eye that scanned with a glance of recognition every face in the congregation. Dressed in a white summer suit, he advanced to the pulpit desk in the centre of the rostrum with a cheerful word of greeting. He called upon the congregation to rise and sing "The joy bells," and they at once rose and sang it joyfully, led by a large choir, the women of which were dressed in white surplices.

The preacher was assisted by his wife, a very dark young woman, who sang, with deliberate enunciation, "I heard the voice of Jesus say," and other solos during the service. The sermon was a simple exposition of two texts, "Unless ye become as a little child," and "When I became a man, I put away childish things." These apparently contradictory texts were explained in a free, conversational manner, with apt and sometimes humorous illustrations from everyday life, chiefly domestic. The preacher gained direct contact by familiarity and the common touch.

But the secret of this new revival, as of all the old revivals, is congregational singing, and, strangely enough, most of the songs are old-fashioned. But to young people a thing may be so old as to be absolutely new. Some of the latest styles in women's head-gear were the fashion in days of their grandmothers.

One could very easily criticize certain methods of this new movement. We might call it commercialized religious sentiment. Yet, as Mr. Fey says, the movement indicates that something like a spiritual famine exists among large sections of our population, especially the young people, who are "more hungry for faith than are their elders." And he adds: "The churches are not feeding these starving people, and they cannot be indifferent to the challenge which this attempt to use the new channels of communication for preaching the gospel offers them."

ALL WORKERS PAY

Canada's Socialist Party, which had ten seats in the last Parliament, will have more than double the number in this: Yet on the authority of the Gallup poll, which certainly isn't wrong on the wide swings, the CCF party reached its peak a couple of years ago, when it was favored by 29 per cent. of the people.

Be that as it may, those who believe that the future of this country lies in the maintenance and expansion of private enterprise (within the limits of honesty and fair dealing) have much work ahead of them in combatting Socialism within the two old parties which profess to abhor and fear that economic system.

First of all it should be remembered that we have in Canada a very powerful bureaucracy. And bureaucracy likes to grow and it likes to throw its weight around.

Secondly, politicians like to create, and many like to acquire government jobs.

Thirdly, some Ministers of the Crown are not averse to creating, or acquiring, vast enterprises for them to administer.

Fourthly, government enterprises dislike competition.

Fifthly, government never gives up one of its enterprises.

Sixthly government enterprises are not self-supporting except (as in the case of the provincial liquor stores) when the customers are gouged.

Finally, the private taxpayer is rendered less capable of carrying on by the tax burden occasioned by the unself-supporting public enterprises.

The trend won't be altered until the voters all realize that they, and they only, pay for anything the government does for them.

THE ROMANS HAD INFLATION

If you do not believe that there is danger of inflation in Canada, you should examine some Roman coins from the fourth century, B.C., to the fourth century A.D. They are on view in the Royal Ontario Museum.

At first the unit, an As, weighed a Roman pound. It was cast in copper 2½ inches in diameter and yet even such a gigantic coin could buy only little and at the highest was worth only 1,200 to the pound of gold. Imagine how many huge wagons had to follow the army, just to carry the soldiers' pay!

In the days of Caesar, the workmen's normal wage (about sixteen cents a day) would barely buy a pound of pork. From then on the price of meat and bread rose rapidly. By the third century A.D. one pound of pork cost, in terms of the original gold standard, some 416 times what it had in the days of Caesar and by the reign of Constantine, 1440 times its earlier value.

This inflation may be seen graphically in the change from the fat coppers to the good solid silver, then through the silver coins growing rapidly thinner and more diluted to the shabby coins of the fourth century A.D., paper thin, of base metal, no longer even pretending to be silver, of which we have a hoard of over 6,700 coins, the total value of which would be worth only about one-quarter of a pound of gold.

From distant centuries comes a timely warning for us to-day.

60 Years Of Service

(St. Catharines Standard)

Congratulations go to The Grimsby Independent newspaper, which has celebrated its Diamond Jubilee. In July of 1885 The Grimsby Independent was born, and since that time has lived through many changes and much world chaos.

Time has marched on with almost unbelievable swiftness, passing from the horse and buggy era into the electric street car, to the motor car, to bus and truck of today, and in a few years will greet the era of the aeroplane. Since its founding in 1885, the newspaper has been the outstanding force in the fight for the greater development of the "Biggest Little Town in the World," and the whole Grimsby district.

The sincere wishes of all citizens of the Niagara Peninsula are extended to this thriving newspaper, in the hope that it may carry on its service to the community for another 60 years.

(Hamilton Spectator)

Still vigorous and living up to its name, the Grimsby Independent is celebrating its diamond jubilee with this week's issue. Sixty years is a long time in the life of any newspaper, and the Independent takes its place among the elder weeklies of Canada. It was witnessed many changes since it first began publication, but always it has been progressive and an outspoken advocate of everything it believed to be for the good of Grimsby and district. Its home lies in one of the loveliest parts of Canada. Congratulations and many happy returns to the Grimsby Independent!

TWO PARTIES

The rise of women's page columnists is a modern phenomenon, but not many of the girls are modern enough to touch on politics in their daily chit-chat. An exception is Margaret Aitken, who gossips about many things in the Toronto Telegram. Writing the other day about the democratic principles of the Canadian Socialist party, she remarked: "Hitler, Mussolini and Himmler believed in the two-party system—one party in office and the other party in jail."

TO A LITTLE FRIEND

I love to meet the little folks
That come with running feet,
To hold me with their chubby hands
And walk me down the street.

I love to share their sunny smiles,
To hear their tearful tales,
To help repair a broken wheel
Or mend their leaky pails.

I love to see a tousled head
When morning comes anew,
So much asleep, yet so awake,
With Oh! so much to do.

I love to watch a growing boy,
When noontime's sun is high,
Who cleans his plate with crusts of bread
To earn the extra pie.

I love to see a tired child,
When night time brings its rest,
With wooly dog or teddy bear
Hugged closely to his breast.

I love to have among my friends
The greatest folk that be,
That's why I always want a child
To be a pal to me. —H. W. Hoebel.

$6,000,000 BUILDING FUND

Will you help build health for countless children?

ABOVE is the architect's drawing of a new Hospital for Sick Children which the people of Ontario must begin to build in the immediate future. This task cannot be delayed. Scores of little children today are awaiting the specialized hospital attention which only this institution can give.

During the past 70 years, hundreds of thousands of sick and crippled Ontario children have been treated. 95 per cent. of the beds are in the public wards. The 88 doctors in attendance make no charge for these patients.

The research laboratories are among the largest of their kind in the country. All Canada benefits from this research. It has been effective in the prevention and cure of disease.

WHY IS A NEW BUILDING NEEDED?

The present hospital is obsolete and overcrowded. More beds are needed. The total number of patients treated has increased 50% since 1929. No bed is ever empty and there is a continuous waiting list of 200 cases. The estimated cost of the new hospital is $6,000,000. Today, as throughout its history, the hospital must rely on the generosity of public-spirited citizens. Thousands of little children look to you to restore them to health. Whatever you can give will bring rich rewards to you, to Ontario and to the Dominion both now and in the years to come.

FACTS

Tell the Whole Story

- Hospital founded 1875—six beds.
- College Street Hospital built 1889, with 190 beds. Extended later.

In Memoriam

HURST—In loving memory of my dear son and brother, Cpl. Carman Hurst, killed in action, in Caen, France, July 12th, 1944.

Somewhere in France, in a soldier's grave,
Lies my dear son, among the brave;
He never shunned his country's call,
But gladly gave his life, his all.
He died, the helpless to defend,
A faithful soldier's Noble end.
Not dead, just gone before.

Never forgotten by dad, wife, brother Roy, sister Goldie and family.

Nuptials

LEVI—HILDRETH

In St. Andrew's Anglican Church, Grimsby, on Saturday afternoon, July 7th, 1945, at 4 o'clock, the wedding took place of Lillian Mae, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hildreth, St. Andrew's avenue, and Flight Lieutenant John Alfred Levi, R.C.A.F., only son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Levi, Beamsville. Rev. E. A. Brooks officiated. The altar was decorated with regalia and baby's breath, and Mrs. D. McIntosh presided at the organ.

Given away by her father, the bride was gown in white sheer over taffeta with embroidered yoke, and wore a lace cap with a fingertip length veil. Her bouquet was white starlight roses and bouvardia. Mrs. William Sullivan, sister of the bride, was matron of honour and was gown in pink organza with matching cap and carried a colonial bouquet of roses, snapdragon and sweet peas. Miss Joan Levi, sister of the groom was bridesmaid and wore a gown of blue organza with matching cap, and carried a colonial nosegay of roses and sweet peas. The best man was Mr. William Sullivan, and the usher was Mr. Ronald Chivers.

The reception for seventy-five guests was held in St. Andrew's Parish Hall. Navy blue sheer was worn by the bride's mother, with a corsage of Tallman roses, while the mother of the groom was in lime green printed crepe with a corsage of orchid sweet peas and Johanna hill roses.

The bride and groom left for a wedding trip to Highland Inn, Algonquin Park, the bride travelling in a light wool suit of jade green, with brown accessories, and corsage of roses.

Guests were present from Ottawa, Brampton, Mount Dennis, Beamsville, St. Catharines and Detroit.

WATT—TAIT

Before a background of ferns, peonies and columbine, and under a canopy of streamers and wedding bells, a quiet wedding took place on June 29th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Tait, Brandon, Manitoba, when their only daughter, Margaret Elizabeth, became the bride of Flying Officer George Douglas Watt, son of Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Watt, of Grimsby, Ontario. Rev. E. D. Eprey officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in ivory satin, featuring a sweetheart neckline and lily point sleeves, the full skirt falling in a slight train. Her long veil was held in place by a coronet of shimmering satin. She carried deep red roses and wore a string of matched pearls, the gift of the groom.

Miss Bettie McDonald was a bridesmaid. She wore a floor length dress of pale blue sheer with lace trim. Her bouquet was of pale pink roses and snapdragons. Sgt. F. Barbour attended the bridegroom. The bride's mother chose a printed jersey dress and wore a corsage of Tallman roses.

At the reception following the ceremony, the bride's table was decorated with streamers and bells and was centred with a four-tiered wedding cake. The happy couple left amid the good wishes of their friends for a short honeymoon.

Pupils Recital

A recital of interest given by a number of pupils of Mrs. Bertha Hayes Bolton, O.M.T.A. "Presto Music Class", assisted by Miss Barbara Klock and Master Jimmie Scott, Guitar Soloists, on Tuesday evening, July 3rd, in St. John's Sunday School room, Grimsby, was much enjoyed by the audience present of parents and friends.

An exceedingly well arranged program of instrumental music, readings, sketches, and a playlet by the pupils, their rendering showing careful training in the requirements for the grades of the Toronto Conservatory Examinations, as well as in Dramatic Art.

The assisting guitar numbers by Miss Barbara Klock and Master Jimmie Scott, were well rendered, and added much to the program.

The special numbers, a sketch "Raiding the Treasury" by Miss Cairine Shantz, (boy character in costume), was one of the outstanding numbers, and proved very amusing.

The special "Musical Tone Pictures", (a) "The Celtic Lullaby," played by Ann Young, and (b) "In the Rowboat" played by Olga Martins, were especially admired for their artistic expression and rendering.

"Hymn playing group" by several pupils, playing with sympathetic expression, was another feature of the program. Hymn "Rock of Ages" reading by Mrs. Bolton, given with artistic expression, followed by the Hymn being played with same expression given in the reading by Miss Hazel Toock, was much enjoyed.

A Playlet "The Neighbors all" by Ellene and Maxine Jones was very amusing and exceedingly well portrayed, causing much merriment, as were also the readings by Dorothy Game, Maxine Jones and Albena Klowac.

Special instrumental numbers by higher grade pupils were given by Olga Martins, Betty Konkle, Hel Twocock and Leona Twocock.

Pupils 1st to 5th grades, Toronto Conservatory examinations giving: Albena Klowac, Dorothy Game, Helen Patroski, David Yeg, Patay Daut, Maxine Jones, Elie Jones, Ann Young, Cairine Shantz, Mary Klawassens (Beamsville), L. Konkle.

At the close of the program, Mrs. Bolton was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers by Cair Shantz.

Link With Past Is Severed

A notable link with early history of Canada was severed on Saturday when the remains of "Effie" Clarke Black were laid at rest in St. Andrew's Anglican Church cemetery.

Mrs. Black was born in Grimsby nearly 89 years ago. She died in Hamilton General Hospital Wednesday night following a stroke. Up until two weeks ago she enjoyed remarkably good health considering her advanced years.

Though known to friends and relatives by the abbreviated and affectionate name "Effie", her maiden name was Euphemia Isabella Clarke, born in Grimsby, August 29th, 1856. She was a sister of the late William F. Clarke, several times Reeve of Grimsby and one-time Warden of Lincoln County, and also a sister of the late Mrs. A. O. Bowlaugh and an aunt of Mrs. W. F. Randall of Fruitland.

The death of Mrs. Black has removed a figure of more than usual historic interest. She was a great-granddaughter of Major-General Aeneas Shaw, commander of the British forces in Upper Canada during the war of 1812, and later acting Vice-Governor of Upper Canada in Simcoe's time. She was the 10th, and youngest and last surviving child of Clement Lendrum Clarke and Isabella Shaw, the first couple to be married in Credit mission (now Port Credit) on Oct. 19th, 1835. Mrs. Black's mother was a daughter of Aeneas Shaw, eldest son of the first Governor of Upper Canada. Her father, C. L. Clarke, was born in Tyrone, Ireland. He was a descendant of the House of Clement and had received an advanced education. He came to Canada as a tutor to descendants of United Empire Loyalists, settling first in York (now Toronto) where he met Isabella Shaw. After their marriage they lived at Clinton for some time, where Mr. Clarke taught school, and later came to the Grimsby district. He taught at Stoney Creek and also on, or near the site of the old "Park" school, adjoining the Book property, two miles east of Grimsby.

As mentioned, there were 10 children in that Clarke family—six sons and four daughters, namely: Aeneas, James, John, William, George, Henry, Annie, Jane, Charlotte and "Effie".

Further to this family's historic background, the archives of Ontario record that the first house built in Toronto was that of Mrs. Black's great-grandfather, Major-General Aeneas Shaw (then Captain Shaw). Shaw Street in Toronto is named after the commander, for it was at the head of this thoroughfare that his log home was built. Old Elm trees still mark the site.

Of the General, an article appearing in the Toronto Globe of March 15th, 1878 says: "In a letter to Sir George Yonge (after whom Yonge Street, Toronto, is named) dated in June 1792, Governor Simcoe refers in very complimentary terms to an arduous achievement which had just been performed by Captain Shaw. It appears that the gallant Captain had just completed a long and toilsome march at the head of a division of the Queen's Rangers from New Brunswick to Montreal. This march had been accomplished on snow-shoes in the depth of a winter of unusual severity.

Captain Shaw was subsequently appointed a member of the Legislative and Executive Councils in Upper Canada and was thereafter known as the Hon. Aeneas Shaw. He also rose to the rank of Major-General and was one of the most prominent citizens of Little York in those days. As some recompense for his efficient military services he received a free grant of large tracts of land in various parts of the province, including a block of 500 acres north of the Garrison at York. Upon the lot so granted, he built a log house sometime during the year 1795, and immediately upon its completion he took up his abode there with his family. The situation of the house was remote from civilization at that time, being nearly half a mile north of what is now Queen Street and several hundred yards northwest of where Trinity College was built later. Its owner named the place "Oakhill" after his ancestral seat in Scotland, and had a road slashed through the forest from his front door to his former quarters at Lambeth Place (a block-house and Commandant's Headquarters on the waterfront which was later destroyed during the American invasion in 1813).

In this little cabin its owner soon afterwards had the honor of entertaining the Duke of Kent, during one of that nobleman's visits to Upper Canada. As the little family at Oakhill increased, the accommodation afforded by this primitive domicile became insufficient for them and a larger one was built farther eastward. This latter was of frame and was the first private house of that material built at, or near York. The date was 1797 or 1798.

It is interesting to note that Miss Sophia Shaw, daughter of the founder of "Oakhill", was the intended bride of Major-General Sir Isaac Brock, and that their marriage was only prevented by that officer's glorious and untimely death at Queenston Heights. Miss Sophia was faithful to the General's memory and remained single for his sake until her death.

Miss Sophia Shaw, thus referred to in The Globe's article of 1878, was an aunt of Isabella Shaw, mother of the lady, (Mrs. Black) who returned on Saturday to her native Grimsby for her final rest.

Visitors to the Parliament Buildings in Queen's Park, Toronto, may have viewed with interest a series of large oil portraits adorning the walls. To the left of the main entrance hangs a portrait of Major-General Aeneas Shaw, and in the first-floor corridor, another portrait of Major-General Sir Isaac Brock.

Surviving Mrs. Black are nieces—Mrs. W. F. Randall, of Fruitland; Mrs. Ella Bradt, and Mrs. Lottie Lane, of Niagara Falls, N.Y.; and nephews—Fred C. Clarke, Harry G. Clark, and Andrew D. Clarke, of Toronto, and George G. Young, of Los Angeles, Calif. Mrs. Bradt, Mrs. Lane, Mrs. Randall and "Andy" are all natives of Grimsby.

It's a good thing the movie seats are comfortable. It enables a youth to slide low in his seat and sit on his backbone.

"At the Ontario Division Red Cross warehouse in Toronto, volunteers are completing in record time, the job of packing 30,000 bags for men when released from internment camps in the Pacific theatre of war. Bags will be a veritable treasure trove to men who have had nothing but the scantiest necessities and have lacked most of what the average person would consider utterly indispensable. Contents of the release parcels or bags include sun glasses, into the case of which the packers tucked packets of chewing gum. There are also wash cloths, hand knit in Red Cross branches, toilet and shaving soap, dental powder, handkerchiefs, hosiery, cigarette, razor and blades, bath towels, socks, comb, pencil and writing paper.

HERO AT 74: Age is no barrier to gallantry in wartime Merchant Navy service it is proven by Chan For Sul, here receiving the British Empire Medal in his 74th year. The Chinese veteran of Canadian Pacific Steamships—he now is serving out his 53rd year with that company at his own request—is a survivor of the Princess Marguerite, one of the 12 Canadian Pacific vessels lost through enemy action in this war.

Bell Telephone Plans Expansion

Within three to five years after men and materials again become available, The Bell Telephone Company of Canada plans to spend almost $10,000,000 to extend rural telephone service to some 20,000 more rural dwellings in Ontario and Quebec, according to an article in the current issue of "The Blue Bell," monthly magazine for Bell Telephone employees.

This sum covers reconstruction, the provision of facilities to serve those whose applications have had to be deferred because of wartime shortages and unexpressed demand, and new construction to take care of expected growth beyond present pole lines. It will involve erection of some 2,600 miles of new pole line and 20,000 additional miles of circuit.

It does not cover the cost of converting rural exchanges to the same system as that in large cities, and other service improvements which will help the company make its contribution to the post-war objective of full employment.

Further studies are still being made to find out what people in rural areas think about telephone service and what they want. On this sound basis of fact, still more extensive plans may be developed.

Providing high quality telephone service at a cost the farmer is able to pay is by no means an easy task the article states. It is estimated that about 80 per cent of all rural families in the Bell Company's territory are located either along existing lines or near enough to them so that service can be provided without a special construction charge. Yet at the present time only 38 per cent of rural dwellings have service. Full advantage is being taken of economical methods of construction introduced before the war, and study is being made of other developments brought to the fore in recent years.

THIS PIGEON PLANNED TO SPARE HIS WINGS

FOR a time during the war the R.C.A.F. had a pigeon loft over the swimming pool at Jasper Park Lodge, which was not open to tourists. The birds were carriers, trained to travel in aircraft and fly away under their own power with messages in case of emergency. The upper photograph shows Sgt. William Goebel, who was in charge of the flock. Inset below is one of the pigeons, who had a history all his own. A native of Prince Rupert, B.C., he took it into his head one day to go home. There was no aircraft going that way and he decided against tiring his own wings on a flight missing for two of 700-odd miles. He listed AWOL days and about to on a couple, he was finally found train head of a Canadian National for the Coast.

Sir:

Thankfully acknowledging your generous gift of cigarette. I am yours truly, Corporal Forester.

May 1, 1945.

Dear Carm:

I have just received another carton of cigarettes from you and the Chamber of Commerce, truly a very welcome gift. Thanks very much.

We are getting accustomed to the bright light again. On V-E night the street lights were turned on, we have even forgotten about blackouts in our billets, and it certainly makes a big difference.

You have done a grand job, sending us cigarettes and I hope you won't have to do it much longer.

Sincerely,
Robert Gibson.

May 31, 1945.

Dear Sirs:

Thanks very much for the 600 cigarettes which arrived this morning. Canadian fags are still the best.

It may not be so very long now until we will be able to buy our own fags in Grimsby. Meanwhile, thanks again, and keep up the good work.

Sincerely,
Wallace Smith.
Lunenburg, Germany.

June 4, 1945.

Dear Mr. Millyard:

Once again I should like to express my thanks to you, and the people of Grimsby for the cigarettes that I've received.

They certainly are welcome, as well as a great comfort for us over here.

However it is not just the cigarettes alone, but the thought that comes with them that is important to me.

So, thank you, Mr. Millyard, and thanks, everyone.

Yours truly,

H. Thompson.

Dear Mr. Millyard:

I really don't know how to express my thanks for the cigarettes I have received lately. They were a long time in coming but finally got here. Anyway, many thanks for the smokes. Please thank all concerned in the Chamber of Commerce Cigarette Fund. Its a wonderful organization.

I'm sure all the boys feel as I do, that not only ones own relations are concerned of our comfort, but the whole community which is surely shown in the gifts and comforts sent by the organizations in the town.

I surely want to thank again those responsible for making these gifts possible. They certainly are greatly appreciated.

Yours thankfully,
C. Smith.

May 5, 1945.

Dear Mr. Millyard:

Just a few lines to express my appreciation for the cigarettes which I have been receiving regularly. Also to the people who had a hand in doing such a splendid job sending cigarettes to the boys in the service. So, many thanks to you all.

Sincerely,
L/Cpl. O. Beamer.

May 25, 1945.

Dear Carm:

Just a few lines to let you know that I received 300 Cigarettes from the Grimsby Chamber of Commerce a couple of days ago, and they couldn't have come at a more opportune time, as I was down to my last package. They have been sent from Montreal on March 15th. But I guess the reason they took so long, they have gone to my regiment. My wife or my father know my hospital address. At the present time I am out of the hospital and I am at a convalescent depot, but I will be going back in a couple of weeks for another operation on my face. Here at the depot is Pug Gregory, Alton Blanchard, Bud McCannolly and a fellow from Smithville by the name of Lacey. So it isn't too bad when you have fellows from home. I also see Joe Hand quite often, and Harry Eason is only two miles from me. Mary Bishop is close around here, but as yet I haven't seen her. We are still having pretty good weather and from all reports from home, things are really serious. I haven't a lot more to say at this time, so I guess I will close. So please convey my thanks to the Chamber of Commerce for remembering me with those most welcome smokes. They are very scarce, but I understand that the P.O.W. have first choice, and as far as I am concerned, they should have them, and I would only be too glad to go without for a while as some of the boys have gone through hell. I know some of the boys personally. They used to be with me back in Canada. So long for now Carm, and the very best to you all.

As ever,
"Toko" Fair.

A baby may suffer but few ever suffer in silence.

I received your carton of cigarettes and appreciated it very much. Thanks a lot. Hope to be seeing you all soon.

R. A. Ferris.

May 26, 1945.

Dear Mr. Millyard:

This is just a short note to say thank you very much for the Sweet Caps. A carton of those look good anywhere. They are very much appreciated.

The war being over we have very little to do here now. Sports are provided everyday, if there isn't a job to do.

They tell us that we are to leave the continent in the near future, so we hope it means back across the Atlantic. That Main street will sure look good after seeing so much of the destruction over here.

Best of luck.

John Spencer.

June 2, 1945.

Dear Sir:

Just a few lines to let you know that I received the 300 smokes which you were so very kind to send me. I sure appreciate them very very much and I am sure that we will all be home in the very near future and the help that you at home have given us sure has made things very very much easier. I wish to thank you once again for your kindness.

Yours truly,
Pte. A. D. Twocock.

June 5th, 1945.

Dear Sir:

It is such a thrill to come in at noon and find one's name on the list for a Canadian parcel. And we usually know when they are cigarettes—they have an uncanny way of arriving when everyone is almost out! I hadn't received any for sometime when the three hundred came from the Chamber of Commerce.

Although it makes me a little homesick when I know that people at home are thinking of me, I cannot deny that I am having a wonderful time over here. We are stationed in the country at Farnborough. It is just out of Aldershot which of course is a large military area. But we have found a way to get away from camps and army vehicles—we bought "cycloes" and we spend all our time off touring the country and finding sweet little inns where we can have tea.

Of course sometimes we go up to London—it is only an hour from here — and we have seen all the famous places and some places not quite so famous but interesting. It occurred to me that I must have digested a great many English novels, because all the names in London were so familiar to me.

I have met a few Grimsby people over here, and heard from others I haven't managed to meet yet. I believe we all have the same thought — a grand old reunion in Grimsby someday.

With many thanks and warmest thoughts of the "home town."

Sincerely,
Mary W. Bishop.

June 6, 1945

Dear Sirs:

I want to thank you and the people of Grimsby very sincerely for the cartons of Sweet Caps and Buckinghams I received yesterday. The Caps were postmarked April 19, and the others May 3.

The chief interest for us airmen here now concerns when we're going to get home. I expect that I shall be repatriated before Christmas. But in the service one can never be sure.

Very truly yours,
J. S. Meyers.

May 22, 1945.

Dear Sir:

Have just received 300 cigarettes today which are very much appreciated and they came just in the right time. My mail has been going astray for the last few months and now I am back in England, for how long I cannot say. Would very much like to get home now I have seen about enough so I am just hoping for the best, thanking you all for your kindness for the smokes. Hope to be able to join some of you on my return.

Sincerely,
R. H. Forsyth.

May 18, 1945.

Dear Mr. Millyard:
Thanks a lot for the cigarettes from the Chamber of Commerce. They got here just a few days ago, after being a long time on the way because of my being posted from the Middle East. They arrived O.K. though, and Canadian cigarettes are always welcome.

With the end of the war in Europe we're wondering what's going to happen to us, and I hope it won't be a long before we can all thank you in person for the cigarettes and other things you've sent us.

Sincerely,

Lorne Wilcox.

AN UNUSUAL CASE

The father was in the cab with his daughter. The latter did not have a driver's permit nor a beginner's permit, and as a result the Crown is endeavoring to establish joint ownership on the father and daughter.

The accident was investigated by Provincial Constable Ted Hope, Grimsby.

J. W. KENNEDY

still serving at the time of his death.

J. W. Kennedy was one of the old guard who helped by their public spirit to pilot Beamsville through its adolescence to its mature years. His passing is much to be regretted.

Surviving are two sons, J. R. and Harry, of Beamsville; three daughters, Mrs. Philip Wismer, of Jordan; Mrs. Charles Morningstar, of Galt; and Mrs. D. Reid, of Niagara-on-the-Lake; a brother, Lewis, of Tacoma, Wash., and a sister, Mrs. Laura Bryant, Detroit.

The funeral took place from his late home on Wednesday afternoon to Mount Osborne Cemetery.

PHEASANT BREEDING

of the Association. The members will liberate the little birds where they usually do their hunting on pheasant days.

Thousands more of the baby pheasants are getting a healthy start in life, and eggs are continuing the sequence almost as fast as they can be handled.

From a flock of 88 adult birds which the Association started with in the spring, the members now have developed their assets to include 56 fox pens for breeding and rearing pens; 14 of these are established in Lincoln and Welland Counties. They bought three 700-egg electric incubators and a battery brooder. They have brooding houses and a big conditioning pen.

To introduce new blood into the stock in this district the Association bought 2,000 chicks from the United States, and 1,500 eggs from pheasant breeders in Wisconsin. More eggs have been received from the Dominion and provincial governments.

BEAUTIFUL MEMORIAL

at far more than mere illumination. Light can filter, pierce or flood so that it works not only at carrying out the form, but at crystallizing the spiritual message. The way it lays a figure or cuts through a plane of the face can make the most detailed difference in the spiritual bent of the ideas expressed.

This window is not large, as great windows go. It is about 16 feet high and ten wide; it has five lancets and, above them, 10 slender tracery lights. The subject is Christ Glorified. The Christ, in red garment, occupies the central lancet. On each side, the apostles are ranked so that one head appears just over the one in front. The outside lancets show archangels at the top, and figures representing mortal humanity at the bottom. Each slender light of the tracery shows the figure of an angel. Artists will appreciate the unobtrusive way in which the composition carries out the oval of the central figure, and the feeling of life and vitality in the whole thing. Just the requisite minimum of clear glass has been used. The rest is utterly superb color, recalling the jewel beauty of famous old windows.

Those who sit in the audience will probably feel, at first, that they are looking at entirely conventional ecclesiastical art, so right and fitting is the work. Only gradually they may realize that this is not a re-doing of Gothic ideas. The Christ is beardless, and the countenance, turned slightly to the side, is both firm and poetic. There is suggestion of calm, far vision. The hands also bespeak fine breeding. Action, rather than immobility, is suggested. We are away from the stereotyped concept, yet not away from the tradition.

Nothing better carries out the "glorified" idea than the tracery lights. The wings of the angels rise upward in flame; color against a deep blue sky, and the whole set of these upper lights remind one of a happy descent on a sober bit of theme.

By long concentration, and with between four and five thousand pieces of glass as medium, Yvonne Williams has turned out a work of art which soars entirely beyond the merely good and tasteful and which, in this column's opinion, is one of the most outstanding of modern Canadian accomplishments. And it is modern, or probably it would be better to say contemporary. To measure its success, it is well to remember that he who can throw over all tradition can easily make the impress of a contemporary idea. But the artist who makes a tradition comprehend a new idea, has veritably made the medium do his or her bidding.

CANADIAN CATTLE FOR MEXICO

THE first complete herd of dairy cattle ever to be purchased in Canada for shipment to Mexico, 109 purebred and grade holsteins, was moved recently over the Canadian National Railway. They went from the Muroco Farms, Lindsay, Ontario, to Mexico City, on their way to the Guadalupe Ranch of Jesus Gonzalez Callop, secretary to the president, a 4,000 mile journey. More livestock will be going from various parts of the Dominion. The photographs show the cattle being loaded in selected freight cars, which were fitted with special watering troughs and with food racks stocked with grain and hay, to tide them over a six day trip to the Mexican boundary.

"SALADA"
ICED TEAMake Room For
Mackenzie King

(Orangeville Banner)

This is the title of a piece of poetry that seems to have been in general circulation in Orangeville and district. Several copies have reached The Banner Office, with requests that we publish the lines which follow:

It was a wet June evening,
Mitch Hepburn's work was done,
And he beside his onion patch
Was looking rather glum;
And beside him sitting on the green,
His side-kick, Jolliffe, looking mean.

"Your Gestapo gag, it failed to work,"

Said Mitch to Jolliffe, "You big squirt!
Ontario folk are not all goats—
They showed it by their heavy votes."

And Jolliffe turned to Mitch, and said,
"Your figures are deeper in the red,
Your party has taken its last fling.
Sit over, let's make room for King."
